

Managing Multicultural Teams

Duration: 5 Days

Language: en

Course Code: MG2 - 191

Objective

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the dynamics and challenges of managing multicultural teams.
- Develop cultural intelligence (CQ) for effective leadership.
- Foster trust and communication across diverse cultural backgrounds.
- Address and resolve cross-cultural misunderstandings and conflicts.
- Build inclusive team cultures that drive performance and engagement.
- Design effective team processes for global and remote collaboration.

Audience

This course is ideal for:

- Team leaders and managers in multinational or cross-cultural environments.
- HR professionals managing international teams or overseeing diversity initiatives.
- Project managers working with distributed or global teams.
- Business consultants and coaches supporting multicultural organisations.
- Professionals preparing for international assignments or relocation.
- Entrepreneurs and founders building culturally diverse teams.

Training Methodology

The course combines instructor-led lectures, real-world case studies, group discussions, role-playing scenarios, and interactive reflection exercises. Participants will engage in cultural simulations and work collaboratively on problem-solving tasks. Practical frameworks and self-assessment tools will be used to enhance learning retention and promote cultural awareness.

Summary

In today's globalised work environment, organisations often bring together talent from diverse cultural backgrounds. While this diversity enhances creativity and problem-solving, it can also pose communication and management challenges. This course helps professionals develop the skills and cultural intelligence needed to effectively lead multicultural teams.

Through a practical, experience-based learning approach, participants will explore best practices for inclusive leadership, building trust across cultures, handling conflicts, and fostering collaboration in diverse teams. The course also offers insights into managing remote international teams and aligning cross-cultural dynamics with organisational goals.
